

Colt McCoy Biography

Colt McCoy is the founding Partner at HPI in Fort Worth and serves as its managing partner overseeing day-to-day operations, where he leads office and industrial investment, development, and operations for the region. His work centers on expanding HPI's footprint in Fort Worth, sourcing new opportunities, and building long-term partnerships with companies and investors who share a commitment to the city's growth.

After 14 seasons in the NFL, Colt returned to Texas to begin his commercial real estate career. He was drawn to HPI's entrepreneurial culture and the chance to help shape the firm's strategy in a market experiencing tremendous momentum.

A graduate of The University of Texas, Colt brings a competitive mindset, a team-oriented leadership style, and a deep appreciation for Texas business. He is focused on creating enduring value for clients and strengthening HPI's role as a trusted local partner.

Colt lives in Fort Worth with his wife and their four children.